

The fun never stops with iTouch

The next generation of touchscreen games is hitting the market, setting new standards for player experience. With Elo's iTouch "touch-on-tube" technology, these games not only attract more players and thus increase coin-drop for your customers, but can also lower your manufacturing costs.

Indeed, Elo's iTouch CRT touchmonitors are the first fully-integrated, ready-to-install, computer-grade touchmonitors without an added touchscreen overlay. The result for the players is revolutionary: brighter, sharper graphics, reflections reduced by up to 80% and ultra fast, precise, drift-free touches. Players will be attracted to your games, even in brightly-lit areas, and they won't be frustrated by strong reflections or trying to touch small targets or Internet hyperlinks. They can even play two-at-a-time without annoying "averaged touches". But, don't take our word for it. In blind comparative tests by our customers, players simply preferred iTouch.
